This software simulates the full flight trajectory of a liquid-propellant rocket. It has been developed for UBC's Rocket Design team.

The code is written in Python. If using MS Visual Studio, open the solution (.sln) file and run the module title "Main_script.py".